

Practice, Cooperation, Safety – PROTEGA 2025 Trade Fair

On 24–25 November 2025, during the PROTEGA Civil Protection and Civil Defence Trade Fair, the PROTEGA Congress will take place – a two-day forum for knowledge exchange and experience sharing among representatives of public administration, emergency services, non-governmental organizations, and the private sector. The program will feature expert panels, lectures, and hands-on workshops devoted to key aspects of the Civil Protection and Civil Defence System (CP&CDS).

Day 1 – System Challenges and Practical Skills

The first day of the Congress (24 November) will open with a discussion panel featuring members of the Honorary Committee and invited guests, focused on the directions of development for CP&CDS in Poland. Subsequent sessions will cover topics such as system organization, the role of administration and businesses, logistics, and strategic reserves.

During the workshop sessions, participants will learn how to develop safety plans, prepare an evacuation backpack and emergency kit, and take part in practical first aid exercises.

Day 2 – Response and Cooperation

The second day (25 November) will focus on civil protection in crisis situations such as floods, blackouts, and infrastructure failures. Discussions will also include the organization of Collective Protection Facilities, training and exercises within CP&CDS, and the operation of civil defence during wartime.

At the same time, on the workshop stage, experts from the Governmental Agency for Strategic Reserves will present opportunities for cooperation with businesses. Participants will also learn how to respond to terrorist attacks, drone and missile threats, as well as how to select and use personal protective equipment effectively.

Knowledge Worth Having

The PROTEGA Congress is a unique opportunity to gain practical knowledge, exchange experiences, and foster cooperation among all those responsible for public safety.
